General feedback (5 points):

The article review clearly outlines the topic of sea level rise. The importance of the topic is clearly communicated and it is evident that research and effort has gone into the writing of this paper. I appreciated that multiple reasons for concern with sea level rise were laid out. I wasn't sure if you should include more evidence from a study done that maybe introduced ideas for mitigating sea level rise, but I think that the understanding of biological concepts was clear. Perhaps more could be brought in about methods currently being used to stop or prevent the negative effects of sea level rise, but overall the concepts are well described and well elaborated upon. There were no major grammatical or spelling errors and all in-text citations seemed correct and well placed. For the works cited, you may want to un-underline the links and make the text black as well. The rationale for choosing the topic was very well explained. Transitions between paragraphs made the whole document easy to follow and the paper flowed smoothly.

Overall assessment (excellent, good, needs improvement):
