General feedback (5 points):

This article was really eye-opening for me and great topic to focus on as climate change needs to be talked more in our world. I can tell this person really cares about this topic and including the main issue, along with possible preventions of the issue. As a person who didn't know much about the Wetlands, the writer did an amazing job giving me a sense of what they are and elaborate the effect on the environment and economy.

Overall assessment (excellent, good, needs improvement):

The overall assignment is excellent. It included the main issue of rising sea levels and its effect on globally and coastal ecosystems. I would encourage maybe providing an example of an area where this issue is seen at, like at a specific location. Also one tiny grammar/citation thing I would recommend, it reduce the amount of times you add the year after the person name. Like Schuerch et. al (2018), this is redundant throughout the draft and I include this only once.
