General feedback (5 points):

Content: Author demonstrates good understanding of topic: diabetes. Could not find anything about what is unknown about diabetes in the paper. Author connects diabetes to larger issues and concepts such as lower socioeconomic status and racial oppression.

Audience: Overall very clear and easy for non-expert audience to understand, however explanation on how diabetes works is extremely detailed and includes lot of scientific terms.

Organization: Article flows well! Would be nice for author to separate information in paragraphs so it is easier to read.

Format, spelling, & grammar: News article exceeds two page limit. Would be helpful maybe to cut out redlining part of the paper as it isn't as relevant to the topic. Few grammatical errors to be found such as missing commas or incomplete sentences.

Citations: Could not find any in-text citations. Author referenced many statistics throughout the paper, so it would be helpful to include citations there. Literature cited page is also not in proper format, does not follow guidelines posted on Moodle.

Rationale: Interesting rationale - I enjoyed the personal connection the author had to the topic.

Overall assessment (excellent, good, needs improvement): Good :)
